

eolas magazine

eolas magazine is the latest magazine in a range of leading titles published by bmf Business Services, including agendaNi magazine and the Northern Ireland Yearbook.

An opportunity has arisen for an advertising sales executive to work on this new public policy and business magazine which is read by decision-makers from Ireland's public, private and voluntary sectors.

Advertising Sales Executive

The role will be mainly field and telephone sales for developing business relationships and promoting eolas magazine to decision-makers from a range of industry sectors, mainly in the Republic of Ireland.

Self-motivation and a positive work ethic are essential along with excellent oral and written communication and client management skills. The successful candidate will ideally be educated to degree level and will have some previous experience of advertising sales for a publication.

Access to own transport is required for this position which offers an exciting opportunity for the right person to join a dynamic media organisation, along with an attractive remuneration and scope for career development. This position will involve regular visits to Dublin.

To apply please send your CV, including salary expectations to Sharon Morrison, Office Manager, bmf Business Services, Davidson House, Glenavy Road Business Park, Moira, Co. Down, BT67 0LT

email to: sharon@bmfbusinessservices.com
Closing date: 26th August 2010

www.eolasmagazine.ie